

Kelaroo Reagent Management System

Simplifying and Streamlining Reagent Inventory Management

The Kelaroo Reagent Management System is a sophisticated application that makes reagent inventory management easy. Our product encompasses all aspects of reagent management, and lets you choose which features are important to your company. Whether you just need a system to expedite your existing processes or need a feature rich application, with extensive controls over everything pertaining to reagent management, the KRMS is the solution.

All aspects of the KRMS are chemically aware and designed to seamlessly integrate with your existing chemical search software and chemical editors. Our system is designed to be vendor agnostic giving you ultimate choice and flexibility.

Our priority was to create a sophisticated reagent management system that was extremely user friendly and intuitive. The KRMS is packed with an extensive feature set. However, this does not get in the way of efficiency. When you need to request a reagent (internally or from a vendor) it is a quick and easy one-click process. Features like this ensure that the KRMS speeds up your workflow, and makes things easy on you. The KRMS takes what you are already doing and makes it quicker and more efficient.

We would love to give you personalized demonstration of the KRMS, so that you can see just how much time and money our system could be saving you. Please give us a call or visit our web site for more information on the KRMS.

FEATURES

- Chemical Intelligence
 Perform complex chemical searches, sdf file loading and generation, data mining and list logic.
- Scalable and Adaptable
 The KRMS comes equipped with powerful customization options that are quick and easy to modify. In addition, the system can be used by organizations both small and large. Whether you have ten users or twenty thousand, the KRMS will suit your needs.
- Seamless Integration with Existing Technology
 Our system works with your existing chemical search software and chemical editors. We support a wide range of software, and are truly vendor agnostic. The KRMS will work with the software that you are already using, making it quick and easy to integrate.
- EH&S Compliance
 Integrated EH&S alerts, warnings, and compliance. Get highly detailed EH&S information quickly and ensure regulations are being adhered to.
- Inventory Management
 Request, receive, and track reagents and chemicals throughout your organization and beyond. Our powerful search and tracking functionality allows you to find any item you are looking for quickly.

